Where is the Longest Castle in the World? It is a Day Trip to Burghausen!

By Paul Dutro, Garmisch Outdoor Recreation

Since it is in Bavaria and quite easy to do in a single day, why have you not visited it yet? I had assumed that anything that advertises itself as the “world’s longest” is going to be cheesy like some “medieval world” fantasy land. WRONG! There is an exhibit on the history of Bavaria and Austria that is great. But the castle itself is fantastic and the town is quite nice as well.

This is a “one time only” trip! There are options built in depending on your personal interests! Mark your calendar for Saturday , 18 August! Burghausen is not exactly “just around the corner”, so we are going to opt for an early departure at 07:30 a.m. On the ride I will talk about the town, the history, the exhibit and will conclude with a few personal observations once we start to work our way through the six castle courtyards. Then it is time for the tour to become “your personal quest!”

Personal Option One: There is a privately owned “torture museum” within the castle compound that is worth exploring. The official printed guide points out that the tower actually was used for gruesome purposes for many years, although the torture instruments currently on display have been imported into this setting since no tortures have been performed here since the tower was converted to living quarters in 1918. Admission is €3

Personal Option Two: The second Courtyard contains remnants of the former brewery and bakery that has now been converted into a castle café.

Personal Option Three: The Exhibit “Bavaria/Austria Allies, Enemies, Relatives” is an excellent introduction to the convoluted history of this area. The admission is €9 (an audio- guide is available for an additional cost of €2.50) The regular rooms in the castle can also be visited with the same ticket. They contain some excellent examples of Bavarian art in the Middle Ages as well as some great panoramic 19th century battle scenes featuring major Bavarian victories.

Personal Option Four: There is a very steep set of stairs which go from the castle all the way down to the valley floor. Quaint shops, regular shops, places to eat lunch, significant architecture in the churches and old buildings etc, etc. It is possible to cross the bridge over the Salzach River to the Austrian side and get great views and photos.

For Everyone: By 4:00 p.m. we will board the bus so that we have time to see two other attractions in the area. Raitenhaslach Abbey goes back to the year 1186 and Marienberg Pilgrimage Church dates from the 18th century. The Abbey has a guesthouse with a Biergarten where we can grab some dinner. We depart at 7:00 p.m. and should return to Garmisch by 10:00 p.m. This is too long a day for small children but your teenagers might be interested! The price for transportation to the Burghausen area is $35.00 for adults and $25.00 for teens. Tickets to the Exhibit or the torture museum are extra. The price of the Exhibition Ticket is €9.

Introducing our newest Mueller Fitness Center Instructor ~ Debbie Caruso

I began my studying/ training in sport, wellness, and the mind body connection many years ago. I was introduced at a young age to (at that time) still alternative practices such as Yoga, Tai Chi, Martial Arts and meditation. I also developed a love for the outdoors and endurance sports such as running and biking. I have taken part in many one day races including the Milano-San Remo (295km) The Oetzaler Bike Marathon (238km 5500hm) and the AlpenBrevet (266km 6600hm)

I believe to achieve your best in any sport there has to be a balance. Participating in the 'internal arts' achieves that balance. I am a certified Yoga instructor, practicing Kundalini Yoga. I am also a full Instructor with the Tai Chi Union of Great Britain which includes teaching Qigong. I have been an avid participant and firm believer in complementary therapies for many years.

Believing also in a natural holistic approach to wellness and beauty, I achieved my Acupressure Diploma with Stonebridge College and am qualified for Jade Roller Facial Massage through Facial Enhancement. Also, this year, I became a Neal's Yard Remedies Consultant and am now using these gorgeous, natural products in my Facial Treatments.

I began to use holistic therapies to bring balance to my life and want to share my positive experiences with as many people as possible! I believe in today's world, with all the pressure, stress and disease, it is more important than ever to start looking 'inwards' and to take our health, both physical and mental, back into our own hands...Namaste.

Weekend Getaways

Prague for Labor Day Weekend

Friday, 31 August– 3 September Departs at 4:15 p.m.
 Cost $390, $45 per night extra for single room

Let's go to the place everyone wants to see in the "new Europe." Prague is often on the top of everyone's list of places to visit in the old world. We leave at 4:15 p.m. on Friday and should arrive at our hotel shortly after 10 p.m. There will be a Friday night orientation tour of Prague, including how to get back to the hotel if your experience of the city is going to include any of the very late night spots! Saturday starts with a daytime tour that includes a few more touristic sights. We will arrange tickets for those who want to see an opera in the evening. Prague has it all; museums, shopping, churches, art, and of course, architecture. Paul will conduct a guided tour of the Franz Kafka museum as well. There will be a fair amount of free time to explore on your own. Two full nights in Prague and a day before we load up for the ride back to Bavaria. On the way home we will stop in Plzen to sample some "Plzener Urquel" beer at a terrific restaurant. Estimated arrival time back in Garmisch is about 8 p.m. Do not forget that you need a passport!

New Trip COLUMBUS DAY WEEKEND: VIVE LA FRANCE !

A WEEKEND IN THE HEART OF BURGUNDY

Friday, 5 October – Monday, 8 October; Cost: $575

This is the first time we are running this trip!

The town is surrounded by some of the world's most famous wine villages, while the facilities and cellars of many producers, large and small, are situated in Beaune itself. With a rich historical and architectural heritage, Beaune is considered the "Capital of Burgundy Wines."

Our weekend will include visits to the town's major fine food market, a Saturday afternoon vineyard "Safari" tour, Dijon mustard tasting, a Marche Aux Vins tasting and tour. There will be ample time to rent bikes in the village and explore the area independently. Our evenings will be focused on, what else?, enjoying the best local restaurants! Come see us for more details!

Columbus Day Weekend UNESCO World Heritage Site "Renaissance Italy"

Friday, 5 October – Monday, 8 October

Deadline for signing up is 15 August.

Cost $475 ($150 Deposit required)

Tour is limited to 16 people.

Why Urbino? You've probably never heard of it! And therein is the reason: one big advantage is that mass tourism hasn't arrived there yet and its delay has allowed Urbino to retain its charm! It is still authentic Italy. What else makes Urbino the ultimate Renaissance jewel? Raphael was born there. So was Bramante, the guy who was mostly responsible for the construction of St. Peter's in Rome. Duke Federigo built a palace there. The Duchess presided over soirees that included the leading literary luminaries of the time. Don't believe me? Read Castiglione's book The Book of the Courtier - written - where else? - in Urbino! Cost includes three overnights in great hotels, all transportation and our guide Paul Dutro making the best use of his humanities degree while raving about the Renaissance.

It is certainly hard to believe that it is already time to renew our acquaintance with the great concerts and operas taking place all around us in Munich and the surrounding area. There are three performances coming up and our guide Paul might have tickets for them. He is maintaining a waiting list for the following concerts:

Monday 17 September

Tuesday 25 September

In the Munich National theater on Music by Karl Amadeus Hartmann, Ludwig van Beethoven, and Dimitri Shostakovich.

Last Chance this Year

GARMISCH WALKING TOUR

Tuesday, 7 August at 1800

Cost $8.00

This is your last chance this year to find out a little about the town you are living in. Learn about the town's religious history, unique statues and the meaning behind the paintings on some of the houses. We will meet at the iron pedestrian gate (closed) of the Abrams Complex at the intersection of Lazarettstrasse and Brauhausstrasse. To get there just leave Artillery Kaserne and take a left BEFORE crossing the bridge. Walk straight ahead – paralleling the river. (Do not cross over the river.) After about 30 minutes of walking, there will be a traffic light that governs 2 separate left hand turns. Take the first street to the left and continue walking, with some slight jogs and turns, straight ahead to the big Iron Gate of the Abrams.

Partenkirchen Historic Walking Tour

Tuesday, 14 August at 18:00

Cost is only $ 8.00

We will do an introductory walk through historic Partenkirchen, the older of the two twin towns and the one that many Americans rarely venture to! The walk will include some history as well as a nod to the places where one can get the best hot chocolate and the best pizza. Historic highlights include the “Plague Chapel” put up during the Thirty Years’ War, some great frescoes, the State School for Woodworking, the Partenkirchen Kurpark, and some wonderful stories about Ludwig the Bavarian, Henry the Lion, and St. Mark. Come and check it out. We will meet at the main civic building for Garmisch-Partenkirchen, the Rathaus, under the arcade. (Rathausplatz, corner of Hauptstrasse and Ludwig) The tour will take place the evening before a major religious holiday in Partenkirchen and Paul Dutro will provide plenty of background information in case you decide that you want to “do the feast” on the following day!

Ms. Susan Steinke Outdoor Recreation

Susan was nominated by a community member who attended her first "Susan Trip" to the Dolomites in December 2011. She was so impressed by Susan's "ability to bring a bunch of strangers together and form lasting relationships and memories" that she has been an avid trip attendee ever since!

In the short time that Susan has been with Garmisch ODR, her creativity and positive attitude have led to the creation of a myriad of new programs. Many other participants on the "Ladies Only" Ski trip to Italy and her "Wine Tasting" excursions have commented on her encouraging attitude and how her enthusiasm for the places they went was infectious. She is creative, industrious and most of all, she understands the importance of finding a way to have a laugh; even while stuck in an Italian traffic jam!

Thank you Susan, for all that you do and for supporting the Garmisch Community!
